

Bruce Patton Says:

Lighthouses Worry Coast Guard; Aircraft Rise Worries Army

WASHINGTON — Coast Guard authorities are trying to figure out just how to treat the Lighthouse Service, which will go under Coast Guard if the second reorganization plan goes into effect.

Farm Federation Threat Blamed in Randall Dismissal

H. L. Ponder, U. of A. Trustee, Accuses Federation of Politics

THREAT TO BAILEY Trustee Says Randall Dropped Because of Friends' Threats

LITTLE ROCK—Week-end developments in connection with dismissal of C. C. Randall as assistant director in charge of the Agricultural Extension Service included:

Statement by Harry L. Ponder of Walnut Ridge, member of the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees, outlining the board's reasons for its action.

Announcement from Washington that C. W. Warburton, director of the federal Extension Service, will discuss Mr. Randall's removal with M. L. Wilson, undersecretary of agriculture, this week.

Report by K. Phillips of Gravette, president of the Benton County Farm Bureau, that the federal Extension Service will withhold its contributions to the Arkansas Agricultural Extension Service until a "logical reason" is given for the dismissal.

Resolution by the Legislative Committee of the Arkansas State Grange endorsing "to the fullest extent" action of Governor Bailey and the University of Arkansas Board of Trustees.

Resolution by the Executive Committee of the State Farmers Union charging the Extension Service with abusing the franking privilege in soliciting members for the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation.

Replies by Dan T. Gray and R. E. Short.

Mr. Ponder's statement charged that the board had been threatened with statements about the farm bureau and Extension Service could throw against the Bailey administration.

Accused of Politics
His statement follows in part: "It might have been expected that, following the resignation of Dean Dan T. Gray, his assistant likewise would resign. However, before the Board of Trustees ever had discussed Mr. Randall's status, there came to me a deluge of telephone calls, letters and visitors seeking to impress me with the number of votes which the Farm Bureau and the Extension Service could swing in an election. Other members of the board had similar experiences.

"I have been a member of the university board for 26 years. This is the first instance to my knowledge of an organization attempting to browbeat the trustees about a job. What made it more startling was that the board at that time had taken no action. On the strength of complaints reported at a committee meeting, of which Mr. Randall was quite properly advised, a group in his organization and in the Farm Bureau set out to coerce and intimidate the board with political threats.

"If, after being notified of the complaints with regard to the attitude of the Extension Service directors, Mr. Randall had desired a conference or hearing, the board, of course, would have granted it. Certainly the trustees would have wanted verification of the charges that there was a tendency on the part of some high in the extension staff to put more emphasis upon political influence than upon the agricultural program.

"Evidence that there was grounds for this allegation was provided by leadership of the Farm Bureau. The public may not know that the membership of the Farm Bureau is solicited by the Extension staff. County agents are assigned membership quotas and must collect the dues for the bureau.

"Many county agents resent having to sign up Farm Bureau members and collect dues. I doubt that many trusts brought into the organization approve the method employed. Be that as it may, it explains the bureau's campaign. That campaign could be construed only as an attempt to terrify the university's trustees."

Gray's Reply
Dan T. Gray of Fayetteville, retiring

(Continued on Page Four)

CRANIUM CRACKERS

Join This News Hunt
Here's a test of your news knowledge—and your success will depend on how thoroughly you have been reading this paper. In each of the following, you must identify the subject marked in capital letters.

AVIATOR: Piloted an airplane from Moscow to New York—almost.

THEME: Of President Roosevelt's address before the New York World's Fair.

ISLAND: In English Channel, which Britain plans to make into another "Gibraltar."

STATESMAN: Who joined British territorial army after conscription approved.

COUNTRY: Which Hitler would connect with Germany by road through Polish Corridor and Danzig.

Answers on Page Two

HOPE Star

WEATHER. Arkansas—Partly cloudy Monday night and Tuesday; slightly warmer in southeast portion Monday night.

VOLUME 40—NUMBER 183

HOPE, ARKANSAS, MONDAY, MAY 15, 1939

PRICE 5c COPY

SOVIET ANSWER "NO"

Series of Charges Bring Heavy Fines to Orie Wingfield

Found Guilty of Drunken Driving, Carrying Pistol, Disturbing Peace

FINED TOTAL OF $200 Henry Cheatham Fined $25 on Charge of Reckless Driving

Orie Wingfield drew fines totaling $200 when arraigned before Municipal Judge W. K. Lemley Monday on charges of driving an automobile while drunk, carrying a pistol and disturbing public worship.

He was tried separately on all three charges, being fined $100 for driving while drunk and $50 each on the other two charges. He gave notice of appeal to circuit court on all three charges.

Henry Cheatham, charged with reckless driving, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $25. Results of other cases:

Frank Davis, petit larceny, fined $25 and sentenced to a day in jail for theft of two chickens from Chester Yergler.

Lee Gorham, two charges of over-draft, both charges dismissed on motion of the prosecutor upon payment of the cost.

Arthur Credit, carrying a pistol, dismissed.

Fannie Nelson, possession of untaxed liquor, fined $50. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Scarborough Reynolds, disturbing the peace, fined $5.

Finley Cornelius, disturbing the peace, fined $5.

Don Self, disturbing the peace, fined $5.

Allen McClellan, drunkenness, forfeited $10 cash bond.

David Smith, drunkenness, fined $10.

Luther G. Davis, failing to stop at stop sign, fined $1.

Orie Byers, assault and battery, fined $25.

Tom Matthews, assault and battery, fined $25.

Ernest Byers, assault and battery, fined $25.

Catherine Hill, assault and battery, fined $25.

Mable Brown, assault and battery, fined $25.

Lula Brown, assault and battery, fined $25.

James Edward Turner, petit larceny, fined $25 and sentenced to a day in jail for theft of a lawn mower from Leo Hartsfield. Allen Stewart was given the same penalty on the same charge.

Herman Keel, petit larceny, fined $25 and sentenced to a day in jail for theft of a pair of tennis shoes from Aaron White.

In a civil suit, Dudley Brothers was given judgment of $103.94 for action on account against M. J. Kuessert, Jr. Judgment was by default.

Two, Promised Jobs as "Executioners," Disclose Huge Insurance-Murder Ring

Philadelphia Case Shows Wholesale Arsenic Murders

Workman in Search of Loan Gets Offer to Be "Executioner"

HE GOES TO 'G' MEN One Murder Discovery Leads to Another—and Still Another

By PAUL ROSS
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA — Philadelphia's phantasmagoria of poison-for-profit already classed as the greatest mass-murder plot in American history, with the surface not even scratched—might still be undiscovered if a New Jersey upholstery cleaner had not been in need of $35.

In June, 1938, one George Meyer, cleaner and ex-convict, journeyed to Philadelphia to make a small "touch."

He wound up at a party where he tried to borrow $25 from one Harry Pettillo, a dark Italian with a Napoli conic head, a way with the ladies and an imposing police record.

Instead of the loan, Meyer got an offer from Pettillo of $500 in "good money" or $2500 in "counterfeit," to "knock off" an "old man" with a piece of lead pipe. The victim was to be 38-year-old Ferdinand Alfonsi.

Alfonsi, a fourth-generation Italian, was a frightened, ignorant ex-convict who was unaware that his handsome wife, Stella, held $4000 of insurance on his life.

Meyer did not do the "job." He took a second guess and went to the Philadelphia branch of the U. S. Secret Service.

An agent was assigned to the case. He wormed himself into Pettillo's confidence by "agreeing" to kill Alfonsi, stalling the former until he bought counterfeit bills through him, then arranged to bring Alfonsi to a hospital.

Examination of Alfonsi's stomach showed he had enough arsenic in him to kill 12 men. Herman Pettillo and Mrs. Stella Alfonsi were arrested a month later. Alfonsi lay dead of arsenic poisoning.

Instead of flowering into a bewitchingly gruesome tale, the story might have ended right there, for such murders are common enough. But—Mrs. Alfonsi arranged with one Mrs. Josephine Erichette to bury Ferdinand Alfonsi. Funeral-directress Erichette studied Alfonsi's discolored features and remembered that Philip Ingrao, 18, whom she had buried that summer, looked like this. She went to the police. Philip Ingrao's body was exhumed and found to contain arsenic.

Detective-Lieut. Samuel Riccardi assigned to the case. He discovered that Philip Ingrao, who earned only $6 a week, had insurance policies totaling $5500 on his life. And that Philip's stepmother, Mrs. Carina Favato was the beneficiary of them all. It was also found that Mrs. Favato was

(Continued on Page Four)

MIND Your MANNERS

Test Your Knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below.

1. When you meet a friend you haven't seen for a while, should you greet him with, "You aren't looking very well?"

2. Is it good manners to talk about your health a great deal?

3. Is it good manners to show that you pity another person?

4. Does a person of breeding run down members of his family to outsiders?

5. Is it good manners to "talk down" to people?

What would you do if—
You go to a party and someone you would naturally expect to be there was not present. Would you—
(a) Next time you see him, say, "Why weren't you at the party?"
(b) Next time you see him, start talking about the party?
(c) Not say anything about it, since he wasn't there?

Answers
1. No.
2. No.
3. No.
4. No.
5. No.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(c). He may not have been asked.

ADVISE HUSBAND TO STAY OUT OF COURT OR DEATH.

A copy of a letter threatening the wife of George Meyer after he had "informed" on the murder-for-profit conspirators.

$900,000 Refunding Bonds Are Offered

Rate of 3% Offered Despite Protest by Bob Bailey

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—Over the vigorous objections of Lieutenant-Governor Bob Bailey, Attorney General Jack Holt and the State Investment Board decided Monday to advertise $900,000 worth of refunding bonds for sale June 15 at a maximum interest rate of 3 per cent.

At a meeting May 3 the board voted unanimously to offer the bonds at not more than 2.5 per cent.

Governor Bailey, who called Monday's meeting, and State Bank Commissioner Grover Jernigan expressed the belief that placing the interest rate maximum at 2.5 per cent might result in no bids being received.

Band Wins Honors at National Meet

Plaques Won at Band Contest to Be Put on Display

Returning Saturday night from Little Rock where they attended the national regional band contest, the Hope High School band of 58 pieces with their director, G. Thomas Cannon, brought many honors with them.

Entered in all band competition and several solo and ensemble events, the band made a good record in event, considering the fact that this is the first year in which it has even been eligible to enter a national contest.

The competition was keen, there being bands from seven states and solos from nine. States represented were Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Illinois. Hope ranked third division in both the playing and marching events. In sightreading, the band did even better, receiving a second division rating.

J. T. Luck, entered in trombone and student-conducting, was awarded first and second division respectively, in the two events. His playing was termed superior and his conducting drew high praise from the judges.

Wallace Van Sickle, cornet, and William Routon, saxophone, placed in second division with a rating of "excellent" in their contests. Both acquitted themselves very creditably against some stiff competition from other states.

The woodwind trio and quintet received fourth division ratings. Competition here was probably harder than anywhere else in the entire meet. The trio was made up of Marian Smith, Martha Ann Alexander, and Dewell Dempsey; the quintet, Martha Ann Alexander, Marjorie Dildy, Marian Smith, Carolyn Barr and Wallace Beene.

Plaques awarded to the band are now on display at the High School and will Tuesday be placed in the window of Stewart's jewelry store for public inspection. Medals for the soloists and band members will arrive in a few days, also the plaques and medals won at the state contest at Hot Springs two weeks ago.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS.—(P)—May cotton opened Monday at 8.77 and closed at 8.94.

Spot cotton closed quiet eight points lower, middling 9.19.

Soldiers, Miners Clash in Kentucky

Carpenter Clubbed—3,000 Miners Turned Back by Troops

HARLAN, Ky.—(P)—Claude Howard, of Baxter, carpenter for the Harlan-Walling mine, was clubbed over the head with a pistol by a national guardsman Monday in the first clash between coal miners and state troops, protecting workers returning to the pits.

Howard said he was stopped by a trooper whom he told he (Howard) was en route to his home, but the militiaman refused to allow him to cross a guarded bridge, and in an argument struck him across the head, inflicting a deep gash.

Guardsmen with machine-guns turned back 3,000 coal miners en route to the mines for picket duty.

Troops in Harlan
HARLAN, Ky.—(P)—State troops swarmed into "bloody Harlan" late Sunday to face a tense labor situation as coal mines prepared to reopen with soldier protection over opposition of United Mine Workers' officials.

A short time before the first contingent of troops moved through the streets, the miners gathered in a mass meeting at Lenauer and were told by William Turnblazer, U. M. W. district president, "You can't dig coal with bayonets or with tin soldiers."

As the detachment, commanded by Brig. Gen. Ellerbee W. Carter of Louisville, in four trucks—45 men—passed along the quiet street of a small town, people stared but there was no audible comment.

When the soldiers stopped a block from the courthouse at the armory it was only a few moments before a crowd of small boys riding bicycles surrounded the trucks. News spread quickly that the militia had arrived and streets around the armory were jammed with automobiles. In the business section small groups of men stood and talked in quiet tones.

Kentucky Industrial Relations Commissioner W. C. Burrow, scheduled to speak at the miner's rally, did not appear. He said later: "In view of the situation I thought it advisable not to appear."

After a large number of the national guardsmen had arrived, 40 state policemen were relieved to return to their posts. Trucks after trucks loaded with militiamen rumbled into the town and plans were formulated to send them to mines throughout the county in time for the pits to be opened in the morning. The mobilization order called for 557 men and officers to duty.

George S. Ward, secretary of the Harlan Coal Operators' Association, conferred with the military commanders and it was announced the troops would move during the night to mines along Catron's creek and Martin's creek in the southern part of the county, which produce approximately a third of the coal mined in the county, employing normally about 5,000 men. Operators are housing the troops and feeding them.

Turnblazer said that "four of the largest companies" had asked him to sign a contract, adding "but the miners asked that I not sign until the troops have left the county."

Ward, when asked about Turnblazer's statement, said: "I have been in close touch with all mines and I haven't been informed of any such move."

A Thought

Murder itself is past all explanation the greatest crime, which nature doth abhor.—Goffe.

Mrs. Stella Alfonsi, the handsome widow of one of the arsenic ring's victims.

Marketing Meet in Hope Thursday

Session to Be Held at City Hall from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The third annual Marketing Practice meeting for Southwest Arkansas will be held at Hope city hall, Thursday, May 18, from 9:30 until 4 o'clock.

Other Marketing Practice Meetings being held in Arkansas this week are at Newport on May 16, Warren on May 17, and Clarksville on May 19.

County agents, other agricultural workers and farmers will be in attendance. Specific information on the steps in marketing fresh fruits and vegetables will be discussed by leaders from different organizations. All interested are invited. The following is the program for the Hope Meeting:

9:30 a. m.—Purpose of Meeting—J. E. Rains, District Agent.

9:45 a. m.—Marketing Defects Due to Production Methods—J. A. Hemphill, Agricultural Adjustment Administrator.

10:40 a. m.—Recess.

10:50 a. m.—Grading and Packing (Including reasons . . . R. B. Landrum, for grading and packing from standpoint of retailer and consumer) Supervisor, Federal Inspection Service.

11:20 a. m.—Containers, Loading and Bracing—J. C. Yancey, Freight Container Bureau, Association of American Railroads.

12:00—Noon.

1:00 p. m.—Discussion.

1:15 p. m.—Precooling, Refrigeration, and shipping—H. V. Cooper, Assistant Freight Claim Agent, Missouri Pacific Lines.

2:00 p. m.—Methods of Selling Fresh Fruits and Vegetables—J. H. Heckman, Co-operative Research and Service Division, Farm Credit Administration.

President to Visit West Coast Fair

Will Leave During June If Congress Continues Session

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The White House said Monday that President Roosevelt would go to the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco next month if it appeared congress would not adjourn until late July or early August.

Stephen Early press secretary, said should indications be that congress would quit early in July the president probably would delay his transcontinental journey until after adjournment.

Russia's Answer Given London, But Text Held Secret

Diplomats Agree Russia Has Refused to Join France, Britain

ITALY MODERATING

Mussolini Pushes Peace Plan From Viewpoint of Axis Partners

LONDON, Eng.—(P)—Soviet Russia's reply to Great Britain's counter-proposals for getting the U. S. S. R. into the British-French front was received at the foreign office Monday and passed on to the French government.

Foreign office authorities said they could not disclose its contents, but in diplomatic circles it was agreed generally that it did not accept the British plan.

Britain had suggested that Russia should agree to help Poland and Rumania if these countries were attacked and asked for help.

Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons that Foreign Secretary Halifax hoped to discuss proposals for bringing Russia into the British-French front at a League of Nations council meeting beginning next Monday.

Japan Promises Caution

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Secretary Hull announced Monday that Japan had promised her aviators would exercise all caution possible in China to avoid injuring the unarmed population.

Mussolini Speaks

TURIN, Italy.—(P)—Premier Mussolini told employees of the Fiat Works Monday that the international situation caused Italy to "slow down" development of her civilian automobile industry.

He said Italy some time ago inaugurated a "definite motor policy" but explained:

"We would have continued this rhythm if the international situation had not counseled us to slow down."

Later, I Duce inaugurated a new military airport at Caselle. One hundred planes stunted overhead during the ceremony.

Mussolini Moderates

TURIN, Italy.—(P)—Premier Mussolini said Sunday that he and Reichsfuehrer Hitler believed Europe's problems could be solved without war but he accused "the great democracies" of already having begun a "white war" against Germany and Italy, a war on economic ground. Mussolini warned now that the Rome-Berlin axis was joined in a military alliance, its partners would not allow themselves to be overpowered and would repulse any attack made upon them.

He spoke to a cheering crowd of 50,000 in the big Piazza Piedmont region which will take him close to the military frontier on an inspection tour of military establishments, troop concentrations and public works.

There was no specific mention of Fascist demands on Paris in Mussolini's address but it was full of scorn for France and of references to French-Italian strife in the past. The crowd's applause for the premier was equalled by his boos and jeers for his references to "the democracies," especially for France.

Several times cries of "Tunisia!" and "Savoy!" arose. Both have been mentioned in Fascist clamor since last November for fulfillment of Italian colonial ambitions at France's expense. Tunisia is in French North Africa, and Savoy, once Italian, is in France just over the frontier from Piedmont.

Sword Not Necessary

Mussolini said that "perhaps hundreds of millions of men" were asking whether there will be war or peace. He thundered this answer:

"According to a cold objective examination of the situation there are not at present in Europe problems big enough or acute enough to justify a war which 'by logical development' would spread from Europe and become a universal event."

There are knots in European politics but recourse to the sword is, perhaps, not necessary to cut them. Nevertheless, there is a need that these knots be untied once and for all because sometimes a hard reality is preferable to a long uncertainty.

"This is not only the thought of Italy but also of Germany and thus the axis-of that axis, which, after many years of parallel action of the two regimes and of the two revolutions, will become through the pact of Milan and through the military alliance which will be signed this month at Berlin an indivisible communion of two states and two peoples."

Then he asked whether, "the sincere desire of the totalitarian states there was a 'correspondingly desire of peace of the great peoples' and the crown intent."

(Continued on Page Two)

Hope Star

Published every week after Jan. 1, 1939, Consolidated January 18, 1939

Published every week after Jan. 1, 1939, Consolidated January 18, 1939

Published every week after Jan. 1, 1939, Consolidated January 18, 1939

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

(AP) — Means Associated Press.
(NEA) — Means Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week $1.00; per month $3.50; one year $35.00. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $6.50.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charge will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the deceased. Commercial news items and tributes to the memory of the deceased are published at the rate of $1.00 per line. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

Steady, America! We Don't Need Hysteria.

A self-constituted committee has dug up a series of proposals pending in Congress which are hard to believe. This committee is going to meet in Washington to try to prevent passage of any such laws.

That some of these things are being seriously advocated is hard to understand. Here are some of the proposals which the committee has unearthed:

1. A bill providing deportation for all aliens who may advocate any change in our government, no matter how peaceful.

2. A bill providing concentration camps for aliens who are non-deportable because, no other government will accept them. This might mean internment camps for many who are accused of no crime, and who are unable to leave the country through no fault of their own.

3. A bill providing registration of all aliens and their children, arrest without warrant and deportation of all who are on relief more than a year.

4. A bill providing for deportation of all aliens and prohibition of all immigration.

Several bills for deportation of large numbers of aliens because of loose adherence to "isms," and various other bills for registration, fingerprinting, and other oppressive regulation of aliens who do not file intention to become citizens.

These are only the more drastic of many proposals being studied by this committee.

It is true that the rights of aliens in the United States are probably dependent on the will of Congress rather than being specifically guaranteed by the Constitution, as are those of citizens.

Throughout that document, however, the terms "citizen" and "person" are used more or less interchangeably. For instance, Article XIV, Section 1 says: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, or deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Here, the terms seem to be used more or less interchangeably, but in general, it is the rights of citizens which are protected by the Constitution, leaving aliens to the mercy of changing laws.

Nevertheless, Congress ought to go very slow with any proposals to restrict, or otherwise harass, aliens who are without personal fault or who have violated no law now existing. Generosity and tolerance are too rare in the world today to be lightly flung away in a moment of panic or hysteria. Nothing less than a definite and imminent threat to the national welfare justifies the sort of restrictions being proposed.

As we are strong, we should be generous, and as we are confident of the rightness of our American way, we should be tolerant and human.

The Family Doctor

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

What Happens When You Exercise?

This is the first of five articles discussing the effect of exercise on YOU.

"What happens to my body when I play 18 holes of golf?"

"What is the actual effect on me when I do the family washing?"

"What happens inside me to my blood, heart, pulse, breathing when I spend an afternoon on the tennis court, in the pool, cycling, in the country or even mowing the lawn?"

These are the questions which you probably ask yourself frequently. And this is the first of five "Family Doctor" columns to give you the correct answer:

Conditions in this streamlined world have changed so much in the last two decades that exercise and your participation in it are vastly different than they were before the World War. Consider these facts:

1. In town and city, space for exercise is greatly limited.

2. Because of widespread adoption of labor-saving devices, you have less use for your muscles as you go about the routine business of living.

3. As an adult, your leisure time has increased; as a child it has been lessened.

To children I cite this: Your problem is one of time and space. Your school term and hours have been lengthened, particularly in the cities, and concentrated urban housing has forced you out of crowded playgrounds onto hazardous streets.

And to the modern worker: Your problem is one of selectivity. With working hours sharply cut in the last decade, you have not yet learned how

Services Offered

FOR upholstering, seat covers or car tops see W. A. McCulley, South Main Street, Phone 697W. 12-34GP

Why Worry? We put style in your old hats! Fells, Panamas, Leghorns, cleaned and blocked. Stack's Hat Shop, Cotton Tow. 13-34dh

Lost: LOST—Child's pet fox terrier, white and black. Red leather collar. Notify A. D. Wells, Morgan & Lindsey, Reward. 11-34GP

Lost: LOST—Jersey Bull, cream colored yearling. Tag on left ear. Wt. about 250 lbs. Notify: Sutton & Collier. 13-34dh

For Sale

Chicks, Arkansas finest blood tested, White Rocks, Reds, Barred Rocks, Wyandottes, Leghorns. 100 - $8.45. Heavy, assorted $5.75. Prepared live delivery. Arkansas Hatcheries, Little Rock, Ark. 14-11

FOR SALE—Pedigree White Leghorn Cockerels, 10 weeks, delivered in Hope at 60c each. Mr. J. N. White, Rosston, Ark. 11-34GP

FOR SALE—150 pair women summer shoes, $1.98 value, 98c. Patterson's Cash Store. 11-34GP

FOR SALE—New goose feathers. Write Mrs. W. W. Stringer, Rt. 2, Waldo, Ark. 10-34GP

FOR SALE—Rough and dressed timber or shingles. Phone 289-W or See Claude Waddle. 8-6tp

FOR SALE—Full blood jersey bull, 2 years old. This is a good one cheap. Dorsey McRae. 12-34tp

For Rent

FOR RENT—5 Room house, all conveniences. Pat Casey, Residence phone 657-J. 15-11

FOR RENT—Furnished apartment with private bath and garage. Mrs. W. R. Chandler, 402 South Pine Street. Phone 906. 15-34c

FOR RENT—6 Room house. Furnished or unfurnished, 406 So Spruce, 5 room house; 3 room apartment. Magnolia Addition. Mrs. J. E. Schooley, Phone 38-P-11. 15-6t

FOR RENT—Furnished front room with kitchenette. Modern. Utilities paid. Adults only. Mrs. Tom Carrel, Tourist Rooms. 13-34dh

FOR RENT—Three-room furnished apartment, private bath, 203 East Avenue C. 10-34tp

FOR RENT—3 room furnished apartment with garage. W. E. Jones, Phone 285-W, 1002 East 3rd St. 12-34GP

FOR RENT—Modern East front bed room, 3 blocks from town. 517 W. Third street. Garage. Reasonable. 11-34GP

Found

FOUND—Money, owner may claim by describing and paying for this ad. Mrs. Roy Gilbert, Fulton, Rt. 1. 13-1tp

FOUND—Cant Hook. Found near high school. Owner may claim by paying for this ad at Hope Star. 10-34th

Wanted

WANTED—Sewing, fancy and tailored. Mrs. Della Pate, 507 North Elm. 10-34GP

WANTED—Man with car. Between 25 and 50 years old. Apply S. B. Jones, Box 378, Hope. 15-34dh

Today's Answers to CRANIUM CRACKERS

Questions on Page One AVIATOR: Vladimir Kogginako.
THEME: Peace and international good will.
ISLAND: Alderney.
STATSMAN: Anthony Eden.
COUNTRY: East Prussia.

St. Paul W. M. U.
The St. Paul Women's Missionary Society met at St. Paul church on Tuesday, May 9.
Miss Elizabeth Hanna, program leader presented the program, "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities." The program was opened by the singing of the hymn, "Jesus Precious Jesus," after which a short introductory talk was given by Miss Hanna. Mrs. Locke Cowling read an Article from the "World Outlook," "Working functioning muscles, capable with ease, are highly desirable.

Fitness rather than power is the word of the day.

NEXT: How the heart reacts during exercise.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM LATEST BOOKS

AMERICA SILENCES A PRESIDENT.
From Alphonse B. Miller's engrossing biography of the man who exerted a control over Congress never equaled before or since, "Thaddeus Stevens" (Harpers: $1). Stevens sought to bring about the impeachment of President Johnson. How Johnson was received on a congressional campaign, four in 1865 during the height of the reconstruction battle is shown here. The trip must have been harshest in the exercise. There were disorders everywhere, insults aimed at the President. At Bloomington, Ill., near Springfield, someone shouted, "We don't want traitors hunting bread and butter at the home of Lincoln," and the uproar was too loud for Johnson to finish his remarks.

Johnson kept doggedly on. He encountered the worst disorder of the trip at Indianapolis on the tenth. When he tried to speak, he was shouted down with incessant calls for "Grant! Grant!" and finally he had to retire without having gotten started. Then there was a riot in which a man was killed.

His progress through Ohio was most discouraging. In many towns he was hooted and hissed off the platform.

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

Together, Miss Annie Fountain discussed the Missionary topic "Broadening Horizons of Rural Communities."

Nowhere was he granted a respectful hearing.
At New Market, General Custer grew so incensed at the treatment accorded the President that he shouted, "I was shot two miles from here, and I am ashamed of my neighbors!"
At Pittsburgh, the last considerable stop on the journey, the gathering was unable to speak. On the fifteenth the President was back in Washington, and it would have been far better had he never left there.

CLASSIFIED

"The More You Tell the Quicker You Sell"
• You Can Talk to Only One Man
• Want Ads Talk to Thousands SELL-RENT-BUY OR SWAP

All Want Ads cash in advance. Not taken over the phone.

One time—2c word, minimum 30c. Three times—3 1/2c word, minimum 50c.
Six times—6c word, minimum 90c. One month—18c word, minimum $2.70.
Rates are for continuous insertions only.

For Sale

FOR SALE—Six blade disc planter and plows, all good at new. Cheap. C. M. McConnell on Little, Bodcaw and Hope roads. 9-34GP

FOR SALE—Crocheted bed spread. Mrs. C. D. Dickinson, Phone 766-J. 11-34dh

FOR SALE—We have extra heavy ear corn, 88c bu. McRae Mill & Feed Co. 11-34tp

LEGENDARY VILLAIN

HORIZONTAL

1 Villainous hero of a famous opera.
6 He was a legendary or impostor.
14 Wild buffalo.
15 Uncle.
16 Convex molding.
17 To quote.
18 To steal.
19 Merchandise.
20 Pasteboard picture frame.
21 Gymnastic apparatus.
24 Golf term.
25 Meat.
26 Thing.
27 Reply.
30 Preposition of place.
31 Simile.
32 Morindin dye.
34 Plural (abbr.).
35 Star-shaped flower.
37 Wine vessel.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

WILEY POST SOLO
LAWYER
REVENUE ESTATES BALE
JURALS
ICE
LARD
PARDS
TSLK
ALAK
SAGORA
OK
PANORAMA FINEST YALASKA

WILEY POST

40 Domineering ruler.
43 Aurora.
46 Accurate.
47 High mountain.
50 Vestige.
52 Act of migrating.
53 He sold his soul to the devil.
55 King of beasts.
56 Room recess.
57 Gowned.
58 Wrote the.

VERTICAL

1 Fourth note in scale.
2 Altar chest.
3 One.
4 Coterie.
5 To seaway.
6 Sea skeleton.
7 Barrel ring.
8 Yellow resin.

9 Opposed to highest.
10 Kava.
11 Any wrongful act.
12 On the lee.
13 Snout.
20 He made love to.
22 Polynesian chestnut.
23 Eagerness.
25 Chose by ballot.
28 Being.
29 To make lace.
33 Pertaining to the side.
34 Green films on bronzes.
36 Matures.
38 Blur.
39 Creeds.
41 Credit.
42 Bone.
44 Shaft part.
45 Boat part.
47 To assert.
48 Italian coins.
49 Project.
51 Folding bed.
54 Roof finial.

20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49

50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60

OUR BOARDING HOUSE... with... MAJOR HOOPLE

WELLADAY, DUGAN, MY LAD, THIS ARCHLUTE WAS GIVEN TO ME IN OMSK BY A POOR MUZHIK OVERCOME BY GRATITUDE WHEN I ADMINISTERED TO HIM MEDICAL ATTENTION HE SORELY NEEDED. TUM-TE-TUMMA! HOW ABOUT A LILTING LYRIC FROM THE BARBER OF SEVILLE? —LA-LA-LA—UM-KOFF?

WHAT KEY IS THAT, MAJOR? I CAN'T FIND IT ON THIS LINOTYPE!

KEY? THAT AIN'T A KEY. THAT'S TH' WIND BLOWING TH' GARBAGE CAN AROUND TH' YARD!

IS THAT TH' BARBER OF SEVILLE OR TH' BARBER SHOP CHORD? WHERE'S MY HAT, MACK? WHAT'S MY HURRY?

LA-LA-LA-LA! AH, BRAVO FIGARO, BRAVO BRAVISSIMO! FORTUNATISSIMO! UM-TE-TUMMA! FIGARO! QUO, FIGARO LA, FIGARO SU, FIGARO GIU, PRONTO! PRONTISSIMO!

PLAY US AN EXIT MARCH, FIGARO!

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

PUG WOULD YOU LIKE TO GO FOR A SWIM? THE WATER IS JUST RIGHT.

SWELL!

NOW, THEN...

I JUST CAN'T IMAGINE A FATHER WHO...

BY THE WAY, WHAT IS PUG'S FATHER'S NAME?

ALLEY OOP

WOW! THAT WAS CLOSE! I THOUGHT WE'D SPEARED NUMBER THREE THAT TIME! WHEW! WONDER HOW THEY GOT IT CLEAR?

I'M GONNA FIND OUT RIGHT NOW. WHAT'S WRONG UP THERE IN OUR ENGINE?

I CAN'T IMAGINE WHAT'S HAPPENED T'WY TRAIN CREW!

Concerning Pug

JACK "BETEM" HIGH! I KNOW VERY LITTLE ABOUT HIM EXCEPT THAT HE GETS AROUND QUITE A BIT. SINCE PUG FIRST DISAPPEARED, I'VE TRIED IN VAIN TO LOCATE HIM THRU HIS GADON, FORWARDING ADDRESS.

OH!

WANT! YOU HAVEN'T HEARD THE WORST—I TELL YOU I'VE BEEN FRANTIC!

By V. T. HAMLIN

—IF I CAN STAY RIGHT! SIDE UP LONG ENOUGH TO GET THERE!

WE MUST BE MAKING ABOUT A HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR!

GOLLY! I WOTTA RIDE!

I WONDER HOW Y' STOP THIS CONTRAPTION? I'VE HOLLERED 'WHOA' 'GEE' WHAT A LOTTA GADGETS!

Come Along, Coker

IS THAT THE MAN, EASY?

HE'S THE MAN!

YOU'RE UNDER ARREST, COKER FOR THE MURDER OF I. R. SPLENDIX!

By MERRILL BLOSSER

IT'S BURNING AT RIGHT! GOSH, FELLAS, DO I HAPTA SAY IT?

YOU DO IF YOU DON'T WANT TO GET PADDLED!

WHAT DID THEY SAY, POP?

MORE OF YOUR FRATERNITY

SOCIETY

Mrs. Sid Henry

Telephone 321

Promises

atched the hand of Dawn Removing every trace shadow of the night
That hid the sky's blue face.

With points of pastel hue
She brushed them all away
And placed within my hands
Unmarried, another day.

Forgotten now my threatening sky
The storm clouds all have gone
And hold within my heart
The promise in a perfect dawn.

—Selected.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Oglesby of Tex-arkana were Sunday visitors with friends in the city.

The special meeting of the Bay View Reading club announced for Wednesday May 17 has been postponed until Wednesday, May 24, at which time, Mrs. M. H. Barlow will be hostess.

Charming in every detail was the annual Garden party given on Friday afternoon by the Friday Music club at the lovely garden of Mrs. J. O. Milam on South Pine street. This beautiful garden formed an exquisite setting with its graceful flower and shrub arrangement and the colorful lawn chairs and gliders placed for the comfort of the guests. Receiving the guests were Mrs. Milam, Mrs. Dick Watkins, club president, Mrs. R. M.
LaGrone, third state vice president,
Federated Music clubs, Mrs. F. L.
Pudgett, Mrs. J. C. Carlton and Mrs.
C. C. McNeill past president, Friday Music club; guests were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. Hendrix Sprangins, chairman of National Music Week. The lovely spring frocks, added much to the beauty of the occasions. Entertainment was furnished throughout the afternoon by the string ensemble of the Music club of Arkadelphia. Other out of town guests were members of the Texarkana and Magnolia Music clubs. A beautiful birthday cake with ten candles was on display in recognition of the tenth birthday of the local club. A delicious ice, in which the club colors predominated was served by Mrs. Garrett Story, Mrs. R. V. McGinnis and Mrs.

Edwin Stewart assisted by girls from the Madrigal club. About 125 guests enjoyed the seventh annual party sponsored by the Friday Music club, closing activities for National Music Week and closing the year's program studies.

All members of the Choral club and members from the various church choirs of the city are requested to meet at 9:30 Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. J. C. Carlton East Third street for practice of the commencement music.

The Brookwood P. T. A. will sponsor a benefit bridge party at 2:30 Friday afternoon at the Home Ec cottage at the high school. For reservations, call 373.

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary has been postponed from Tuesday May 16 to Tuesday May 23, at which time it will meet at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs.
E. A. Marsani, 405 South Greening street.

Mr. and Mrs. Bluford Chaney and little daughter, Lura Ellen spent the week end with friends and relatives in Little Rock and Hot Springs.

B. F. Easterling has returned to Houston, Texas, after a visit with Mrs.
Easterling and daughter, Marjorie.

The Band Auxiliary will meet at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon in the band room at the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Park of El Dorado were Mothers' Day visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Kinser.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allison were Mothers' Day guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Ralph Burton in Lewisville.

Terry Field of Little Rock was the Sunday guest of Mrs. J. T. West and Miss Hattie Anne Field.

Jack Witt of Little Rock was the Sunday guest of his parents, Mr. and

RIALTO
MONDAY
"ROMANCE OF THE REDWOODS"
And
"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm"
It's Coming Back!
STARTS TUES.
JESSE JAMES

NEW LAST TIMES
MONDAY
JACKIE COOPER
In "STREETS OF NEW YORK"
with Martin Spellman
LATEST NEWS 10-20c
TUESDAY & WEDNESDAY WILL ROGERS in—
"COUNTY CHAIRMAN"
Also LUCILLE GALL in—
"NEXT TIME I MARRY" STARTS SUNDAY
"SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS"

SAENGER
Arkansas' Largest and Finest
MONDAY-TUESDAY
Matinee Tuesday 2:15
Look What's Coming!
Claudette Colbert
Don Ameche
"MIDNIGHT"
Thurs. & Fri.
DRAMATIC WILDFIRE! DANCING IN HEAVEN! YESTERDAY'S MUSIC IN YOUR HEART!
True life romance of the celebrated dancing couple Fred and Ginger, first great drama. From garrets to glory! Heaven to hell! Break! Deliriously gay! Memorably tender!
THE STORY OF
VERNON AND IRENE CASTLE
FRED ASTAIRE ROGERS with
EDNA MAY OLIVER
WALTER BRENNAN
Low Fields • Etienne
Girardot • Janet Beecher
See them recreating the dances that swept the world—Texas
Tommy—Maxine—
Castle Walk—Tango!
Hear the stirring songs that rainbow-ed an era—Missouri
Wait—Pretty Baby
—When You Were a
Tulip—dozens more!

Named Soviet Envoy to U. S.

New Russian ambassador to United States is Constantine Oumansky, above, who has been serving as charge d'affaires of Soviet embassy in Washington.
Oumansky succeeds Alexander Trojanovsky.

Mrs. Theo P. Witt.

The Woodman Circle will meet at 7:45 Tuesday night at the Woodman Hall. All members are urged to be present to perfect plans for a picnic.

Miss Evelyn Briant has recovered from an attack of flu and has returned to Arkansas State Teachers college,
Conway, where she is a student.

The Hope High School Band Auxiliary will hold its last meeting of the school year at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the high school building.
All members are urged to be present.

The Standings

Hope Softball League

Class A League
Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Bruner-Ivory	4	0	1.000
Leo Robins	2	1	.666
Alton Camp	1	3	.250

Class B League
Club	W.	L.	Pct.
Bruner-Ivory	3	0	1.000
Unique Cafe	2	0	1.000
Geo. W. Robison	2	1	.666
Soil Conservation	1	2	.333
Gunter Bros.	0	3	.000

Games Monday
Leo Robins vs. Alton Camp at 7:30.
Unique Cafe vs. Bruner-Ivory B. team.

Games Tuesday
Leo Robins vs. Bruner-Ivory A team at 7:30.

Games Wednesday
Geo. W. Robison vs. Gunter Bros.
No games scheduled.

Games Thursday
Geo. W. Robison vs. Unique Cafe at 7:30.
Soil Conservation vs. Bruner-Ivory
B team.

Games Friday
Gunter Bros. vs. Unique Cafe at 7:30.
Bruner-Ivory A team vs. Alton
Camp.

Southern Association

Southern Association
Club.	W.	L. Pct.

Sunday's Results
Atlanta 12-4, Little Rock 7-3,
Birmingham 6-4, Knoxville 4-3,
Nashville 6-0, New Orleans 3-7,
Chattanooga 4-4, Memphis 0-3.

Games Monday
Birmingham at Chattanooga,
New Orleans at Atlanta.
Only games scheduled.

National League

Birmingham 6-4, Knoxville 4-3,
Nashville 6-0, New Orleans 3-7,
Chattanooga 4-4, Memphis 0-3.

Games Monday
Birmingham at Chattanooga.

Sunday's Results
Boston 1, Brooklyn 0.
New York 2, Philadelphia 1 (10 innings).
Pittsburgh 5, Chicago 2.
St. Louis 9, Cincinnati 5.

Games Monday
Chicago at Pittsburgh.
Only game scheduled.

American League

Chicago	11	11	.500
Brooklyn	10	11	.476
New York	10	12	.455
Pittsburgh	9	11	.450
Philadelphia	9	12	.428

Sunday's Results
New York 10, Philadelphia 4 (12 innings).
Boston 5, Washington 4 (12 innings).
Cleveland 9, Chicago 4,
Detroit 14-7, St. Louis 4-4.

Games Monday
Boston at Washington.
New York at Philadelphia.
Only games scheduled.

SERIAL STORY. DATE WITH DANGER

BY HELEN WORDEN.
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday's Ark Ladd prepared to go on the French story. Mary and her mother, have sent the police.
Then there is a shriek and the receiver crashes to the floor.

CHAPTER IV
MARY'S adventure began when she stepped out of the telephone booth earlier that evening.
The Duke was talking with Nick Hart. Glancing casually toward them she crossed to the lounge.
"My wrap, Mrs. Meadows," she said to the cloakroom woman. "I'm leaving early."

If Jane Meadows called you by name, your social stock went up.
She contributed the right air of respectability.

Mary stared thoughtfully at her.
"Has Miss Janice French been here tonight?"

"No, Miss Franklin." She lowered her voice. "But I had to lay 'er down on that couch last evening. She was what you might call passin' out."

"Who took her home?"

"Mr. Martin himself."

As Mary hurried down the stairs, the Duke tapped Nick on the arm. "Follow her."

After the babble of the Dove, the silence of the street was soothing to Mary. The club doorman leaned sleepily against an iron grilling. Opposite was a black roadster which Mary recognized as the Duke's own car. Down near Third avenue, a policeman stood by an empty shop window swinging his night stick. In the soft, half-light of a rain-veiled city the prosaic scene was touched with mystery. "The New York Gazette, and don't slow up because I'm a woman."

She glanced out the rear window. Through the rain she could barely distinguish the shadowy lines of the black roadster, swinging suddenly away from the curb.

"I've changed my mind," she cried to the driver. "Drop me at the Grand Central subway station instead."

Throwing two $1 bills at the bewildered man, she climbed out of the cab at the Lexington avenue entrance, turned abruptly down the nearest subway stairs and was half through one of the numerous underground passageways before the long, black roadster had nosed to a stop in front of the Lexington avenue entrance.

At 40th and Madison avenue, Mary stepped breathlessly into another cab. "Forty-five E. 70th street," she said to the driver.

THE house in front of which he eventually stopped was an exact copy of a French chateau at Fontainebleau. It had recently been converted into apartments.
Mary pushed a button beneath a black door-plate. There was no response. She pressed the button again. There was the sound of shuffling feet on hardwood stairs and then a fumbling at the door.

A woman's voice called out sleepily, "And what do you wish?"

"Let me in," said Mary. "It's important."

Clutching her flannel dressing gown about her as the cool wind struck her face, the maid gaud-ingly opened the door. "Make out it's a curious hour for you to be sounding ze doorbell," she whispered in broken English. "If you want Mees French she ees not at home."

Mary slipped a $5 bill into the maid's hand. "I want to wait for Miss French."

Suspiciously the girl beckoned
Mary in the hall, closed the door and silently led the way to a second-floor apartment.

"Would you care to wait here, Mademoiselle?" she asked, ushering Mary into a huge living room shrouded in shimmering pink ta-feta hangings. Mary dropped down on a couch.

"I'll sit here."

But when the girl left Mary jumped up to her feet and began looking at photographs on the mantel, studying the titles of the books on the table and searching at the desk.

Excitedly she pulled several candid camera shots of a man and woman from a drawer. "Janice and Martin," she cried. Someone was snapped in a beach cabana, others in this room where Mary found them. Janice had an exquisitely graceful figure. Her lips were full and sensuous.

Where was she now? The question beat a tattoo on Mary's brain.
She moved over to another lamp to study the pictures more clearly.
A door banged shut. There was the sound of feet on the stairs.

Turning, Mary saw Nick Hart.
Mary took a step toward the phone. He lunged at her.

"Before you make that call, give me those pictures," he spoke ominously, reaching, as he pushed Mary back into the chair, for his hip pocket, "and I don't want to hurt you."

She struggled. He caught her throat with his right hand. "Don't you know any better than to fight me?"

Gasping, she sank down as his fingers closed about her neck. He was strong and powerful. Horror and fear made her weak.

AND then, came the sound of a police siren shrieking like a banisher. Nick released his hold on Mary, grabbed the photographs from her limp hand, raised his revolver as if to strike her, hesi-tated as the wall of the police siren came nearer, slid the gun back into his pocket and silently left the room. A minute later the door shut downstairs. The police siren sounded again. This time fainter, it was not coming to E.

70th street.

Trembling, Mary lifted up the phone. She was in a frenzy.
"Whitehall 3-9300," she screamed into the mouthpiece. "This is Mary. Franklin calling from Rhineland 4-7254. Nick Hart has just left this apartment. He tried to kill me. Send the police."

"She dropped the receiver, Dimly she was aware of a violent clicking in the receiver.

"Hello, hello," a man's voice sounded. "Are you all right, Mary?"

Until the radio car stopped in front of Number 45 an unearthly stillness cloaked house and street.
Immediately after, a violent ringing of doorbells brought the French maid from the rear and sent her running to the door.
"Mon Dieu Mon Dieu," she cried at sight of a plain-clothesman and two policemen. "What ees thees?"

"Where is Miss Franklin?" demanded one of the men.

"Ow should I know?" angrily retorted the girl. "I don't even know Mees French."

"Sorry, Miss, we'll have to search the house." He stepped into the hall. "One of you boys watch the front door. The other take the service entrance."

Before he reached the top step Mary was in the hall.

"I was frightened," she spoke nervously. "I'm Mary Franklin of the Gazette."

The detective held out his hand.
"Jim Chase of Headquarters. The Commissioner sent us. Mr. Ladd called him. Where's Nick Hart?"

Mary shivered. "He left about ten minutes ago."

"Cause you any trouble?"

"No. He wanted to choke me, but thought better and took the photographs instead."

"What photographs?"

"Nice ones of Janice French and Martin."

"I'm. By the way, Mr. Ladd asked the Commissioner to bring you to headquarters. He said he didn't want to lose a good society editor."

"Have they found Janice French?"

"No. He walked slowly behind her down the stairs. 'Her father and mother are pretty worried.'"

"You boys stay here and keep an eye on the house and the maid," he called to the two policemen at the door. "Miss Franklin and I will take a taxi down."

"Looks to me like a picture game now," remarked Mary. "But I'd say it was Janice and not her photographs who is being framed."

"Tell that to the Commissioner," said Chase.

(To Be Continued)

Crackers Win 2 From Little Rock

Lookouts Increase Lead by Winning Two From Memphis

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Atlanta's up and coming Crackers pushed the Little Rock Travelers further down the cellar here Sunday with 12 to 7 and 4 to 3 double-header victories.

First game—
Atlanta..... 012 201 033-12 19 2
Little Rock..... 000 011 104-7 11 0
Stewart and Williams; Richards;
Sayles; Braxton, Katz and Ferralola.

Second game—
Atlanta..... 310 000 0-4 5 1
Little Rock..... 000 002 1-3 6 0
Harris and Richards; Dasse and Ferralola.

Lookouts Win Two MEMPHIS, Tenn.—(AP)—The Chattanooga Lookouts increased their string of consecutive games won to 11 Sunday and widening their Southern Association lead with a double victory over Memphis, 4-0, 4-3.

First game—
Chattanooga..... 000 021 010-4 8 0
Memphis..... 000 000 000-0 7 1
Williams and Galvin; Besse and Gautreaux.

Second game—
Chattanooga..... 200 100 1-4 7 3
Memphis..... 010 110 0-3 10 1
Lanahan and Cannell; Galvin; Stout and Epps.

Vols 6-0, Pels 3-7
NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Effective hurling by the Vols' Mike Martynik and the Pels' Sid Cohen enabled Nashville and New Orleans to split a doubleheader Sunday, thereby retaining fourth and fifth places in Southern standings.

First game—
New Orleans..... 000 100 002-3 6 0
Nashville..... 010 100 13-6 13 1
Perrin, Pulford and Hixon; Martynnik, Adams, Johnson and Blaemire.

Second game—
New Orleans..... 000 213 1-7 21 0
Nashville..... 000 000 0-0 5 1
Cohen and Redmond; Jeffcoat, Gassaway and Blaemire.

Barons 6-4; Smokies 4-3.
KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Before a record shattering throng of 8525 spectators, the Birmingham Barons jolted
the Knoxville Smokies twice Sunday,
6-4 and 4-3.

First game—
Birmingham..... 040 000 102-6 12 1
Knoxville..... 100 002 010-4 9 0
Wetherell and Crouch; Swigart, Lamanski and Stephenson.

Second game—
Birmingham..... 400 000 0-4 7 0
Knoxville..... 100 002 0-3 8 1
Blake and Crouch; Bertram and Klump.

Gold on Wings
CROYDON, England.—(AP)—Gold bullion, which was formerly shipped by ocean under guard is now being flown from Belgium to England.

Fine Fencing

Julio Sanchez, right, Cuban-sugar planter, hooked this 244-pound broadbill swordfish near the mouth of Miami harbor. It is the largest ever taken on rod and reel off the Florida coast.
Capt. Ted Lister has hold of the big fellow's saber.

Declines to Pledge
Champion to Bowl

Southwest Conference Also Refuses to increase Loop

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—(AP)—A proposal to pledge the Southwest conference football champion to play in the post-season Cotton Bowl game at Dallas was defeated when it failed by one vote to win unanimous conference approval.

A faculty committee appointed to work out details of the plan was dissolved and Dr. Henry Tronham of Baylor, president of the committee, said the action had the practical effect of killing the matter.

That development, and denial of Texas Tech's admittance into seven school conference, highlighted the meeting.

Last season's football champion, Texas Christian university, overlooked the Cotton Bowl to accept an invitation to meet Carnegie Tech in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. This aroused considerable comment in Texas.

Dr. Trantham speaking for the committee, said:

"The committee that has been working on the post-season games has been dissolved, and while there is a probability that something may be worked out before the end of the summer between the University of Texas and the conference association, headed by Dan R. Rogers of Dallas, the chance is small."

The University of Texas was the dissenter in the voting.

"I would say," Dr. Trantham continued, "that unless Texas alters its position before the end of the summer, the idea will be abandoned and left exactly where it has been, that is to say, wide open for any school which wins the champion to consider any invitations."

Opposition to post-season football games by the University of Texas was the stumbling point. The University faculty long has opposed such games.

One member of the conference-faculty committee said it was "quite possible" that the other six schools would go ahead with present plans to pledge the conference winner to the game,
"taking the word of the University of Texas that it is opposed to all postseason games and would not accept an invitation from any other source."

